Many Officers and Heralds do excellently with "The War Cry," but there are exceptions, and the number of Heralds should he greatly inferessed.

Speaking to us of Australia a few weight ago. Commissioner Lunb said that the circulation of "The War Cry" there had been practically doubled within the last three years. Splendid, Australia? But is Canada going to permit herself to be outrum at such a nate in the "War, Cry" race?

We know there are many more Corps in Australia than in Canada, Newfoundland, and Bermuda; but on the other band, the population of the great sub-continent is only a little more than half that of the Dominion.

... The astounding fact remains that only one person in every two hundred and thirry of the Dominion's population buys "The War Cry".

What do Canada's lovers of the paper say to that?

We are grateful for what has heen done during the year, and carnestly ask our comrades and readers generally to continue to give us, their warm-hearted support, so that the circulation of "The War Gry" may he raised to at least somewhere near the position it ought to every. We believe there are still thousands of people in the country who do not get "The War Cty" for the only reason that no one takes it to them. Who will help to remove that disability?
